"For those of us in business and industry, we consider how much HLG helps in recruiting and retaining good employees. The opportunity for higher education is much closer to realization with the college on our doorstep. Hannibal-LaGrange College always provides valuable help in achieving our goals, so it's important that we lend a hand to the college at this point in time."

*Darren Smith, Plant Manager
General Mills, Hannibal*

"As a proud graduate of HLG, I look forward to the opportunities I have to give back to the college. I view it as an opportunity to make a difference in the lives of future generations. It's a fact – if every one of our alumni would step up and donate through this opportunity, we would be able to break ground on our sorely-needed new library tomorrow! I hope all our alumni meet this challenge to help build a bright future for HLG!"

Marisa Brown, HLG Class of 1998

Why do we need a new library?

- Our current library was built in 1966, serving a total student population of 500. But HLG's population has more than doubled since, and the space originally intended for a two-year school is completely exhausted.
- Additionally, new academic programs and course offerings require the college to expand its volumes and meet the needs of a 21st century education.
- Our new library will include:
 - Space for over 150,000 volumes
 - Multimedia equipped classrooms
 - Individual research space
 - Language lab
 - Education curriculum lab
 - Computer work stations
 - Wireless access
 - Internet café
 - Fireside lounge
 - Climate-controlled archive room

Built especially with you in mind!*

In this economy, every little bit counts. That's why HLG is giving friends and family the opportunity to do a lot with just the pocket change you remove after a long day at work.

As a member of our new "91 for 3" club, we're asking you to pledge at least 91 cents per day over three years toward the construction of a new library on HLG's campus.

Look at some of these average everyday costs:

- Dinner out for two..... $28.48 (Monthly Labor Review, 2000)
- Monthly Basic Cable... $33.54 (FCC, 2009)
- Movie tickets (4)..... $28.72 (MPAA, 2008)

For less than these items – by donating just 91 cents per day, or just less than $28 per month, for a three-year period – you can donate $1,000 toward the construction of the new Roland Library and our Building for the Future campaign.

Become a member of our "91 for 3!" club today, and make a little go a long way!
