Hannibal-LaGrange University Ministry Event Policy

As a university known for sending students into both the local and foreign mission field, Hannibal-LaGrange University is committed to serving where there is a need. We strive "to promote the life of service in keeping with the example of Jesus Christ and with the University motto Scientia ad Serviendum (Knowledge for Service) by challenging students to participate in service-learning and mission projects." Our students lead worship, small groups, drama, recreation, or whatever else the church needs for their youth event."

The Office of Campus Ministries requests travel expenses will be provided and a small honorarium considered (most churches give around $30 -$50/day). Some students are able to serve without compensation, but the majority has work study or a job that they sacrifice to participate in such ministries.

The HLGU student leaders are not allowed to drive the youth attendees anywhere during the event. Allowing this could cause unnecessary insurance issues that can easily be avoided. The HLGU Student Leaders will sign a Student-Leader Consent Form stating that they will NOT drive the youth attendees. By signing that form, if the HLGU student leaders so choose to break the agreement, they are acknowledging that Hannibal-LaGrange University is in no way to be held accountable if an incident occurs.
