INTRODUCTION

The library is the heart of the academic life on the Hannibal-LaGrange University campus. It provides materials to support the students' program of instruction and to encourage the habit of reading and the use of libraries. The library staff is available to help you in your search of these materials.

The library holds over 149,750 volumes including print books, periodicals, pamphlets, audio-visual materials and equipment. Students also have access to over 300,000 e-books and 26,000 online journals full-text 24x7 wherever they have access to the internet.

At Hannibal-LaGrange University, the library staff will work with you locate the materials you need. Visits to other libraries may be more convenient for off-campus sites. Those in Poplar Bluff may use the library at Three Rivers College. Students may also visit the nearest MOBIUS library. Please see the MOBIUS section of this handbook for locations of MOBIUS libraries.

SERVICES OFFERED on the HLGU campus

The library staff is available to provide the following services: circulation, reference, lamination, interlibrary loan, on-line database searching, and bibliographic instruction. A photocopier, televisions, record players, a die cut machine and microfiche/film reader-scanner are available for student use in the library. The library photocopier can scan to a file which can then be emailed on behalf of the student. Computer labs and wireless internet access are also available to students.

Audio-visual equipment is available to students for classroom presentations.

Fee based services:

Laminating: The cost for laminating is $0.50 per 8.5x11 inch sheet or $1.00 per 11x17 inch sheet. Please allow 24 hours.

Spiral Binding: We have available spirals from 1/4 inch to 1.5 inches. The cost for spiral binding is $2.00 per item.

Photocopying: Regular print copies are $0.025 per page. Color copies are $0.09 per page. Transparencies are $.40 per transparency. Students must use transparencies specified by the library as the copier only takes certain brands.

Scanner: The library has public service scanners available. If a student brings their own storage device, the service is free.

Other services

All students have the privilege of using the Hannibal Free Public Library, located at 200 S. Fifth Street. Students must present proof of enrollment.

Roland Library is also a part of MOBIUS a consortium of academic libraries in Missouri. Students will have visiting patron privileges at most participating libraries in the consortium. SEE MOBIUS section for more information.

LIBRARY RULES

The library strictly enforces the rules in the Student Handbook (see the Student Handbook). No shirt, no shoes, no service.

No animals other than service animals are allowed in the library.

Smoking is not allowed in the library.

Also remember that talking may disturb someone else who is studying. Please be as quiet as possible. If you do not comply with a librarian's request to be quiet, you will be asked to leave the library.

The staff reserves the right to check all materials, book bags and briefcases so that you do not inadvertently take out library materials without first checking them out. If anyone is found taking or damaging library materials, he/she will be disciplined.

Be aware that stealing library materials is a criminal action which can be subject to a fine, prison sentence or both depending upon the value of the work.

The regulations, hours, and services of the library have been arranged so you may use the facilities to the best advantage and have a quiet place to study. We welcome your suggestions on library operations and on books and periodicals which you would like for us to add.

CHECK-OUT POLICIES

Roland Library Collection

Full-time traditional students must present their HLGU ID. Part-time and students in non-traditional classes like those in the Adult Degree Completion program must present either an HLGU ID or an HLGU library card with their driver's license.

Books from the general collection, videos, kits, cassette tapes, CDs, and pamphlets may be checked out for 28 days for the 1st checkout and 28 days for each renewal. Two renewals will be allowed. Students may check out up to 20 items. Items with a hold may not be renewed.

Check-out periods for books put on reserve are decided by the instructor. They may be "Library Use Only," "1-day", "3-days" or "1 week". Books checked out for the "1-day" check-out period are to be returned any time during the next day. "Three-day" reserve books may be checked out anytime during the day and returned any time during the third day.

All magazines, reference books, rare books, archives and non-circulating materials are to be used in the library. These include HLGU yearbooks, catalogs and student newspapers.

Students may check out audiovisual equipment for school related purposes only. Students who lose or do not return equipment may be billed a replacement fee which is the cost of the item with a $20 non-refundable billing fee.

Overdue items are discouraged. Students will be blocked from checking out additional items upon receiving 3 overdue notices on the same item. The third overdue notice is a bill with MINIMUM $20 replacement fee plus $10 billing fee per book. Full amount is due until book is returned. No daily fines will be charged.

Overdue notices will be mailed out regularly. Should a person not receive a notice, he/she is still responsible for the fees. Please keep the library advised of any address changes. If someone receives notices for books he or she does not have, talk with the Public Services Technician.

Students will be blocked from enrolling in classes, participating in graduation ceremonies, or receiving transcripts/diplomas for any overdue items or unpaid fees. (See the delinquent accounts section of the Hannibal-LaGrange University Catalog.) This includes MOBIUS fees -- see below.

TRADITIONAL INTERLIBRARY LOAN

Traditional interlibrary loan is still available for items not accessible on campus or through MOBIUS. To request an interlibrary loan, email a citation to library@hlg.edu.

You will need the following information:

For books:

Author's name

Title

Publisher

Date of publication

For periodicals:

Author's name

Title of the Article

Title of the Journal

Date of publication

Page numbers

Your source (where did you get the information on this item?)

Latest date you can use the material.

The item will be requested by the Public Services Technician, and will be sent from the lending library to the HLGU Library. We will notify you by your HLGU email account that the book has come, and you can pick it up at this library. Please allow 2 weeks for delivery of traditional interlibrary loan items. Electronic items may arrive faster. Fines and fees will vary depending upon the lending library. Students will be notified prior to processing the request if there is a fee so that students may cancel the request if desired.

RECALLS

Regardless if the item is checked out locally, through MOBIUS, or through traditional interlibrary loan, holds may be placed, and items may be recalled. Items recalled may result in a shorter loan period, and renewals will not be allowed.

PLEASE CHECK OUT AND RETURN YOUR OWN BOOKS. INDIVIDUALS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR ALL ITEMS CHECKED OUT ON THEIR CARD.

MOBIUS SYSTEM

MOBIUS stands for Missouri Bibliographic Information User System. It is a consortium of over 80 libraries in Missouri, Iowa, Oklahoma and Texas that have joined together to share one computer system.

There are many parts to this system. In fact, the online catalog has 4 levels
HLGU catalog – the local catalog, where you can see what HLGU has <http://Avalon.searchmobius.org/search~S8>

AVALON –a regional catalog, where you can see what our cluster has <http://Avalon.searchmobius.org/>

MOBIUS -- the statewide catalog, where you can see what the state has <http://searchmobius.org/>

PROSPECTOR -- an extended catalog where you can search libraries in Colorado and Wyoming.
<http://searchmobius.org/>

Some of the advantages of this system:

1. Millions of items available with the click of a button.
2. Students can see which items are available and which are checked out.
3. Students can see their own record, renew books, and see the due date.
4. Students can see their professors' course reserves.
5. Catalogs are available from any web browser.
6. Students are able to check out things from member libraries by either entering your ID number at the request button or by presenting your HLGU ID at their circulation counter.
7. Quick service through a delivery service.

STUDENTS MUST USE THEIR HLGU ID NUMBER TO REQUEST BOOKS!!!

Only books from general collections may be requested. Periodicals, rare books, reference books, reserve books are not available through online requesting. Some audiovisual materials may be requested at the discretion of the lending library. Articles and exact pages of non-circulating books may be requested via interlibrary loan.

Overdue items are unacceptable. Three overdue notices will be sent with the third notice being a bill. Students will be asked to pay a replacement fee plus a $20 billing fee per book. The $20 is non-refundable even if the book is returned.

Students may have up to 10 MOBIUS items. Please allow 3 business days for delivery.

LIBRARY RESEARCH PROCESS

Whether you need to locate a recipe for chocolate mousse or analyze the cost-effectiveness of computerizing a manufacturing process, the research process is the same.

The basic steps in the research process are:

1. Define your search topic.
2. Gain a general overview and perspective
3. Decide what types of material you will need: books, journal articles, etc.
4. Locate references to materials
5. Locate physical materials
6. Scan the item to gauge their usefulness to you
7. Read and take notes on your selected sources
8. Repeat steps two through seven until you have the information you need
9. Write your paper

Step 1 – Define your search topic.

You must select a topic for your research. Sometimes the professor will select one for you. Sometimes you will be able to pick one yourself.

Step 2. – Gain a general overview and perspective

Your topic, or problem, will generally contain several concepts; therefore, it is helpful to define search terms. If you can, separate each concept and begin to think of synonyms, or related words for each concept.

Example: Effect of technology on relationships of young adults

Key Concepts and Synonyms

Technology	Relationships	Young Adults
Internet	Friendships	Youth
Social Media	Family	Teenagers
Cell phones	Dating	College students
Facebook	Connections	Gen Z
YouTube	Romance	Twenty-something

In searching for information on this topic, it might be necessary to search each index under each of these terms.

Every periodical index, catalog and database has a standard list of subject terms that is used consistently throughout that particular index; however, most databases allow keyword searching. If you do not find what you are looking for, please ask a librarian for assistance.

Step 3. Decide what types of material you will need

This step has several options: Books, print journals, newspapers, electronic journals, web sites, videos, television shows, etc. Most professors will want two or three different types of material included in your papers.

Step 4. Locate references to materials

Searching for books – use one of the catalogs – HLGU, MOBIUS or Worldcat

Searching for e-books - use the E-books collection in EBSCOhost

Searching in online indexes for journals – use one of the library databases

Searching for a web site – use your preferred search engine.

Step 5. Locate physical materials

For books, you will need to use the call number to retrieve the item from the shelf or pick it up at a service desk if you requested it online.

For print journals at HLGU, you will need to ask for it at the circulation desk and the staff will get it for you. You may read the article in the library or photocopy it to read it at your convenience.

Electronic articles can be printed. With e-books, you will be limited to a certain number of pages due to copyright restrictions.

Step 6. Scan the item to gauge their usefulness to you

Step 7. Read and take notes on your selected sources

Step 8. Repeat steps two through seven until you have the information you need

Step 9. Write your paper

SEARCHING THE ONLINE CATALOG

ARRANGEMENT OF LIBRARY MATERIALS

Our library uses the Dewey Decimal system to classify books. Dewey is arranged by broad subject areas.

DEWEY DECIMAL CLASSIFICATION SYSTEM
000-099	General Works (including encyclopedias, periodicals)
100-199	Philosophy and psychology
200-299	Religion (including mythology)
300-399	Social Sciences (including economics, law, education, government, etc.)
400-499	Language (including dictionaries and grammars)
500-599	Pure Science (such as mathematics, chemistry, physics, biology)
600-699	Technology (applied sciences, including agriculture, engineering, etc.)
700-799	Arts and recreation (including painting, music, etc.)
800-899	Literature and rhetoric (including poetry, plays, etc.)
900-999	History, geography, and biography

In our library, biographies are usually in 920-929, but it is also advisable to look in the subject catalog under the person's name. Biographies are usually grouped together by the subject; for example, most of the books about George Washington will be in one place.

Other Parts of HLGU Call numbers – Area Designations - Prefixes & Postfixes.

Some call numbers will have extra information at the beginning or end of a call number. These are called prefixes and postfixes. These are the prefixes and postfixes used at Roland Library in Hannibal and their locations.

SEARCHING FOR BOOKS

The catalog is the main entry point in every library since it contains a bibliographic record of every book and non-print item the library possesses. Our library catalog is accessible on the Internet. The web addresses are

<https://Avalon.searchmobius.org/search~S8/> - public access catalog
<https://searchmobius.org/> - MOBIUS Union Catalog

When you have located an interesting item, there are definite pieces of information you should write down or print out such as the call number and the full bibliographic citation.

The Call Number

Copy the entire call number which appears in a box in the middle of a bibliographic record. You will need it to locate the book. Two samples of complete call numbers look like these:

Dewey Decimal System	Library of Congress System
658.45	BS2535.2
D495g	G85
	1982

Simply copying the first line of the call number is not enough. All lines are essential to locate a book. You would then take this information with you and pull the book from the shelf.

Summary "Hallowell, known for his work with children and adults, now identifies the underlying reasons why people really lose their ability to focus at work--where many of today's adults feel distracted and unproductive. He explains why commonly offered solutions like 'learn to manage your time better' or 'make a to-do list' just don't work because they don't address the deeper, underlying issues of mental distraction"-- Provided by publisher.

REFERENCE BOOKS

Reference books are those which you would not normally read through but which give brief or general facts for quick reference. The three major types of reference books are language dictionaries, general encyclopedias, and subject reference books. Particular points to watch for are the copyright date, the authority of the editors and staff, and the arrangement of the information. Reference material may not be taken out of the library.

Valuable print resources:

Grove's Dictionary Of Music And Musicians. - for music information

IF YOU CANNOT FIND THE BOOK

If the book you want is not on the shelf, check the surrounding tables as someone else may be using it. It could also be checked out, at the bindery, lost or stolen. You should check at the circulation desk. Ask the librarian for help either to locate it or to request it on interlibrary loan from another library.

PERIODICALS AND INDEXES

One of the most used sources of information is a journal article. The library has approximately 300 current print journals and may obtain copies of articles in many more. For the most part we recommend students use our online databases as an index to find reliable articles. Some databases include both citations and full-text.

A citation indicates the article title, author, magazine title, volume number, page number and periodical date. Be sure to copy the entire citation so you may find the article more easily.

The following is an example of a citation found in a periodical index under the subject JUVENILE DELINQUENCY:

- [a] JUVENILE DELINQUENCY
- [b] Return to school: counseling juvenile delinquents
- [c] N. Henry Today Educ. 63: 42-4 Ja'02
- [d] [e] [f] [g]

- a) Subject of the article
- b) Title of the article
- c) Author of the article
- d) Name of the magazine in which it appeared (Today's Education)
- e) The volume number of the magazine
- f) The pages on which the article appeared in the magazine
- g) The date of the magazine (January 2002)

Indexes often make use of abbreviations and will frequently abbreviate the title of the magazine.

An abstract service is an index to periodicals, books, scholarly publications, etc. It differs from other indexes in that a brief summary, or abstract, of the article or book is included.

EBSCOhost is an example of an online index which has the capacity to provide some full text articles. EBSCOhost can be accessed from home. You should be able to access via your student portal. If not, please contact the library

Once you have compiled your list of articles to be read, your task is to locate them.

First, check the periodicals holdings list of the library you are in. Most will have a bibliographic record in the online catalog.

Bound periodicals are located in the southwest stacks. Microfiche must be obtained from the library staff. The microfiche/ film reader is available in the archives room. Please ask for assistance in using it. Periodicals, microfilm, microfiche and current issues must be used in the library. PERIODICALS MAY NOT BE CHECKED OUT OF THE LIBRARY.

Some things to consider when choosing periodical articles to read are:

1. The title of the article may show what it covers.
2. The length of the article may indicate how detailed the treatment is.
3. The periodical it is in may suggest whether the article is popular or scholarly, broad or detailed.
4. The availability of the periodical in the library or through interlibrary loan may determine use.

OLDER MEDIA AND THE LISTENING AREA

Audio materials are catalogued and included in the online catalog. The "R" in front of a single line number indicates it is a music record. Spoken records will have two lines of numbers and letters. Give this number to the librarian, who will give you the record and a set of headphones. Records and cassettes may be checked out for 28 days. The listening area is located in the computer lab.

SOFTWARE

We have several useful programs loaded onto the hard drive of various computers. To locate software, ask the library staff. If it is the first time you have used that particular program, the library staff will be glad to give you some instruction.
